Season Preview

Lindsay Niehaus is one of two seniors returning for the Terps.

A year removed from an 11-8-2 campaign that ended in a third straight NCAA Tournament appearance (eighth in nine years), the 2004 Maryland women's soccer team will look to make its fourth straight NCAA Tournament and post double-digit victories for the ninth time in 10 years. The 2004 squad features the arrival of the eighth-best freshman class in the country (according to Soccer Buzz) and the return of 10 letterwinners (five starters). Head Coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski, the 2002 ACC Coach of the Year, thinks this year's team could be just as deep and talented as those of the previous two years'– two teams that combined for the school's highest two-season win total (24) since 1996-97.

"Overall, this team has the potential to be a better team than last year. We will be a very young team. With our new talent, I know we have the potential to compete with any team in the country."

Forward

Three of the Terrapins' top six scorers last year return for 2004, with scoring leader Kimmy Francis and the explosive Simone Dekker spending time up front. The two combined for 12 goals a year ago and have a combined 21 goals in their respective two-year Maryland careers.

According to Higgins-Cirovski, "Simone's versatility will help this team tremendously. She can play wide right of midfield, but she can also play forward. She's explosive, she's got a great touch and she has breakaway pace."

Dekker got off to a quick start in 2003, as she scored in each of the Terps' first two games, including the team's first goal of the season at Washington and a one-goal, one-assist game in Maryland's second ACC/Pac-10 Challenge game versus Washington State.

Francis will spend the bulk of her time in the midfield for Higgins-Cirovski, but will get some looks out of the offensive midfield.

After the loss of redshirt junior Melissa Anderson to her second ACL injury in one year, some newcomers are also expected to contribute at forward this season, with freshmen Carissa Gilbert and Kelly Rozumalski's arrivals. Gilbert, after graduating high school early, came to Maryland in the spring of 2003 and gained valuable experience playing with the Terps in the spring season. '"Carissa is an incredible finisher," said Higgins-Cirovski, "she has good pace, a good cross and is very good with her back to the goal. She is a very good compliment to our existing personnel."

Kelly Rozumalski comes to Maryland from Middleburgh Central High School in New York where she was a 2003 NSCAA All American and the New York State Public High School Player of the Year (2002 and 2003). She is expected to contribute at the forward position right away. "Kelly is powerful, she has great pace, and she loves to go to goal," said Higgins-Cirovski.

Other players who could possibly make contributions at the forward position are sophomore Elizabeth Foley and freshman Nataly Arias, although their primary contributions will be in the midfield. Freshman Kelly Dormandy could also provide some depth in the forward position. Foley gave the team a run at forward in the spring, while all three could give the Terps a different look up top.

Midfield

Midfield is expected to be one of the Terrapins' biggest strengths, with the returns of decorated juniors Kimmy Francis and Mallory Mahar, as well as the contributions of Danielle Malagari, Simone Dekker, Elizabeth Foley and a number of newcomers.

Francis was the team's leading scorer in 2003, leading the team in goals (9), assists (6) and points (24) a year after narrowly missing the Maryland freshman record for assists in a season (9). Those 24 points in 2003 were tied for the eighth-most single-season points in school history, while her 40 career points place her ninth on the school's all-time list. She is a quick, explosive player and should again be among the Terps' scoring leaders in 2004.

"Kimmy is quick, dynamic and incredibly skillful. Furthermore. she is a phenomenal finisher and passer. She'll be one of the keys on corners, as she can serve the ball with accuracy and pace."

Mahar was a NSCAA All-Mid Atlantic Third Team nominee in 2003, despite returning from an ACL injury that caused her to come off the bench in seven of the team's first eight games. She is a physical player with great size and a passion for the game that will look to build upon her successes last season, as well as her breakout 2002 campaign. Mahar has received numerous accolades in her two-year career and is poised to add to her awards resume in 2004.

"Mallory is a ball-winning midfielder and is one of the best players in the air I've ever coached. She is a tremendous tackler, good passer and can dominate the midfield."

Junior Danielle Malagari should see significant time in the midfield this season and will again get a chance to show her playmaking ability and provide a spark for the Terrapin offense. She played in 18 of the team's 21 games a year ago on her way to setting career highs in shots (12), minutes played (333) and games played (18).

"Danielle can give this team the needed balance in our midfield. She reads the game well and knows how to compliment our existing midfield."

Simone Dekker will also spend some time in the midfield this season and will provide experience, speed and explosiveness to the Maryland attack. "Simone is very good at getting end line and is very technical in tight spaces."

Nataly Arias is one of several Terrapin newcomers expected to see time in the midfield this fall. Arias comes to UM from Bishop O'Connell High School in Virginia where she was twice named the Virginia State player of the year, was a two-time All American and was labeled one of the nation's Top 50 recruits by Soccer Buzz.

"Nataly is very technical and has an incredible feel for the game. She's good with her feet, good in the air and has the ability to take over games," Higgins-Cirovski said of Arias.

Additional depth in the midfield could be provided by versatile freshman Jacquie Shields, while Kelly Dormandy can play wide in the midfield. Shelley McDuff and Liz Foley will also vie for playing time in the center, while Lindsey Niehaus will make the occasional shift to midfield from the back position when necessary.

"We have a lot of depth throughout the midfield, which will be our strength. We will be better in the midfield than we were last year, and we definitely have more depth," Higgins-Cirovski said.

Defense

The Terrapin defense will return a number of contributors from 2003, including the team's co-captain, Jennifer Lovecchio. The redshirt senior contributed to a defense that posted four shutouts in 2003 and held its opposition to one goal or fewer in 10 straight games to close out the season. Lovecchio played in 16 of the team's 21 games and logged 1134 minutes.

"Jen is tough, strong and tough to beat. Her effort sets the tone for our team. She is also our most natural leader on the field," Higgins-Cirovski said.

Lauren Krasko also returns after playing in all 21 of the Terrapins' games a year ago (14 starts) and should see consistent minutes as one of the team's center backs. '"Lauren will most likely end up playing in the center of the back for us," said Higgins-Cirovski. "She's incredibly fast - the fastest player we have on our team. Moving Lauren from wide to center of the back has enabled us to take advantage of her speed. She's also very tough, excellent in the air and has her spring experiences to draw on."

Lindsey Niehaus, another experienced back, will likely see minutes at the left back. Niehaus has been a consistent contributor for Higgins-Cirovski the past three seasons and has been one of the team's hardest working players. She returns, along with Jennifer Lovecchio, as one of the team's two seniors.

Fellow freshman Stevie Dunning may spend some time in the defensive midfield after her arrival from Carmel High School in Indiana. Dunning was a NSCAA All-American at Carmel and will likely make an immediate contribution at midfield or back.

"Stevie could play in the midfield as well, although I expect her primary impact her freshman year to be in the backfield considering the loss of Ashly Kennedy to an ACL injury this summer. She's very good in the air and is able to play with both feet. She's hard, she's tough and just gets it done on the defensive end of things in the midfield."

After the loss of Kennedy, newcomers Lauren Gamble and Jacquie Shields will also be candidates for playing time in the backfield, with Gamble likely logging time in the center.

"Lauren Gamble is a natural center back," Higgins-Cirovski said of the freshman. "She is tough, she's strong and reads the game well. And Jacquie is a tremendous athlete with all the tools to become an exceptional back."

Goalkeepers

Despite losing starter Kristen Barnhill, Head Coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski likes what she has returning in net for 2004. Anna Sheveland, Colorado transfer Nikki Resnick and freshman Lindsay Simpson all bring their own, unique styles and will all vie for playing time in the fall.

Sheveland saw limited action in an injury-hampered 2003. At 6'0", she is the tallest netminder in the school's history, with that height being an asset on corner situations and crosses in the box.

"Anna Sheveland is athletic, given her 6-foot frame. She excels at crosses, has good hands and is developing her ground game," Higgins-Cirovski said.

Nikki Resnick comes to UM after a one-year stint at the University of Colorado. She made three starts for the Buffaloes in 2003 and will be a contender for playing time in 2004.

"Nikki is very technical and has good distribution. She is also very quick and agile."

Freshman Lindsay Simpson is also a newcomer to the Maryland program and will push Sheveland and Resnick. "Lindsay is very quick and has the potential to develop," Higgins-Cirovski said.

Shannon Higgins-Cirovski

Head Coach
Sixth Season at Maryland
13th Season as a Head Coach
North Carolina '90
2002 National Soccer Hall of Fame

If you look up the word winner in a dictionary Shannon Higgins-Cirovski might be one of the definitions.

Higgins-Cirovski could be defined as a person possessing every quality of a winner. Those qualities include the desire to be victorious, the will to achieve, the ambition to accomplish, the wish to be successful and the ability to triumph over every obstacle in one's path.

Higgins-Cirovski, though, is much more than just a definition. She is the epitome of someone who strives to be a winner in every facet of his or her life.

In the of fall of 2002, Higgins-Cirovski was recognized as the ultimate winner as she was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame in Oneonta, N.Y., on October 14, 2002. She was just the third woman and is the youngest person ever to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

The former head coach of the U.S. U-18 women's team and former head coach at George Washington University, Higgins-Cirovski was named head coach of the Maryland women's soccer program on Jan. 13, 1999. She joined her husband, Sasho, on the Maryland athletic staff. Sasho Cirovski has been the men's soccer coach since 1993.

The year of 2002 was a storybook one for Higgins-Cirovski. She gave birth to her third daughter, Ellie Summer; won her 100th career game as a coach at Rutgers on Sept. 6; was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame; and was named the ACC Coach of the Year for the second time in four years. Overall, it was Higgins-Cirovski's fourth conference coach of the year honor in her 12 seasons as a head coach.

On the field, Maryland posted a 13-8-1 record, for its most wins since 1996. The total also equalled Higgins-Cirovski's single-season win mark as a coach, originally set in her final year at George Washington (13-6-2 in 1997).

The Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the eighth time in nine years -- four of those under Higgins-Cirovski in 2003. Maryland defeated American in the first round and fell to eventual College Cup Semifinalist Penn State in the second round in a rain-soaked contest. last season and tied Rutgers 1-1 in the first round before being eliminated in a shootout in 2003.

The Terps had their first-ever positive result against the storied North Carolina women's soccer program -- which Higgins-Cirovski helped build. Maryland tied UNC, 1-1 on Nov. 1. In tying the No. 2 Heels, the Terps also picked up their best-ever result against a team ranked in the top two in the nation.

Maryland racked up numerous individual honors under the coach. Mallory Mahar was named the Mid-Atlantic Region Freshman of the Year by Soccer Buzz as well as a Freshman All-American. Katie Ludwig was named to the All-ACC first team while Mahar and Kimmy Francis made the second team as freshmen.

What they are saying about Shannon...

"Obviously we felt it was only a matter of time until Shannon was elected to the Soccer Hall of Fame. When she played here at UNC she had one of the great soccer minds I've ever been around in the college game. She was an exceptional tactical player. Even more impressively she left her mark all over the 1991 World Cup Championship team. She was one of the great achitects of that team's success."
- North Carolina head coach and 1991 World Cup coach Anson Dorrance

"Shannon was truly one of the great players of the 1991 team that won the World Cup. I'm thrilled for her to be named to the National Soccer Hall of Fame. She's very deserving of the recognition. She was one of the great center midfielders. She understood the game tactically and controlled the tempo, changing the point and helping us advance the ball up the field. It's a wonderful honor for her."
- U.S. Women's National Team Coach & '91 World Cup teammate April Heinrichs

"Shannon was one of our best midfielders. She has done a tremendous amount for the sport as a player and as a coach. Tactically, her knowledge of the game was a major reason she was the player she was. It has helped and willhelp her become one of the nation's top coaches."
- Mia Hamm, U.S. National Team Forward and Higgins-Cirovski's former college and national team teammate

"Shannon is an extraordinary athlete and coach. Over time, she will add yet another accolade to her long list of achievements...Coach of the National Champion Maryland Terrapins."
- Maryland Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow

"What an incredible honor this is for Shannon. It is extremely well deserved. It's great to see the Soccer Hall of Fame remember and acknowledge her accomplishments at an early age before she retired to devote her time to her family and coaching career. I think I am the luckiest man on earth. She's a hall of fame wife, a hall of fame mother and now a soccer hall of famer."
- Husband and Maryland men's soccer coach Sasho Cirovski

Higgins-Cirovski's appointment seven years ago created immediate impact for the Terrapins as she coached Maryland to its highest finish in ACC history, second place, with a conference record of 4-2-1 in 1999. She coached Maryland to eight wins in its final 11 games and the Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fifth consecutive year. Maryland put up a valiant fight in the second round of the tournament against Penn State, but lost to the eventual 1999 College Cup semifinalist, 3-2.

She coached All-ACC first teamer and honorable mention All-American Emily Janss and Mid-Atlantic first-team performer Jackie Mynarski. Higgins-Cirovski built a team around a tough, hard-nosed defense led by Mid-Atlantic All-Freshman Team members Lindsay Givens and Carly Viher.

In 2000, Higgins-Cirovski brought in one of the nation's top recruiting classes including Baltimore Sun Player of the Year Jen Biscoe and Washington Post Player of the Year Audra Poulin.

She led Maryland to its first-ever win over a Top-5 team as Maryland upset No. 4 Penn State, 3-1, on Aug. 29, 2000. After the win, the Terps soared to No. 9 in the NSCAA coaches' poll, their highest ranking since 1997.

In 2001, Higgins-Cirovski led the Terps back to the NCAA Women's Soccer College Cup. Maryland finished 10-7-2 behind the solid defense of All-ACC selections Lindsay Givens at back and Ali Wolff at goalkeeper. Both players were also named to the NSCAA All Mid-Atlantic Region teams, along with leading-scorer midfielder Jen Biscoe.

She continues to build Maryland into a national power in a conference in which she is generally regarded as one of the pioneers of the women's game in the United States. At the end of 1999, she was named to Soccer America's Team of the Century, as one of the top 11 players to have impacted women's soccer in the 1900s. She was also honored by the ACC as one of the conference's all-time top players.

In 2002, she was named to the ACC 50th Anniversary Team of the 50 greatest players in conference history.

Cirovski played on four NCAA championship teams at the University of North Carolina, was the consensus national college Player of the Year in 1989, and helped lead the U.S. to the 1991 World Cup title.

Cirovski, 35, served as head coach at George Washington from 1991-97, leading the Colonials to their only NCAA Tournament appearance (1996) in school history. She was named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year in 1994 when she led the Colonials to a 12-8-0 record. One year later, she led George Washington to the Atlantic-10 West Division title. She is the winningest women's soccer coach in school history, posting a seven-year mark of 69-59-11.

She was inducted in the George Washington University Athletic Hall of Fame in February 2003.

A 1990 graduate of North Carolina, the former Shannon Higgins helped lead the Tar Heels to four NCAA titles as a player and a cumulative record of 89-0-6 from 1986-89. A two-time first-team All-American, she was named national Player of the Year by Soccer America magazine in 1988 and 1989 and consensus national Player of the Year in 1989. Higgins-Cirovski was the 1989 recipient of the prestigious Hermann Award as the nation's top Division I women's soccer player. In addition, she won the Honda-Broderick award as the top female athlete in the nation, also in 1989.

She pulled off the remarkable feat of scoring the game-winning goals in the 1987, 1988 and 1989 NCAA championship matches. She ended her career at UNC tied for first in career assists (51), fifth in scoring (129 points) and seventh in goals (39). She is one of nine women's soccer players in UNC history to have her jersey number (3) retired by the university.

She continued her playing career at the international level, representing the United States in competition 51 times. She assisted on both of the U.S. team's goals in a 2-1 win over Norway in the 1991 World Cup final, this country's first world soccer title. She retired as a player following the '91 World Cup. Higgins-Cirovski was honored by FIFA two summers ago, along with the entire 1991 world champion U.S. women's team, at halftime of the 1999 World Cup championship game at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

Higgins-Cirovski served as head coach of the U.S. Under-18 women's national team in 1998, with responsibilities to identify, select and train the top U-18 female players in the U.S., while also serving as an assistant on the women's national team and the women's U-20 team. The U-18 team was undefeated during her time as head coach.

Over the last 12 years, Higgins-Cirovski has been the director of her own soccer camp.

Higgins-Cirovski holds a U.S. Soccer "A" coaching license, and from 1994-98 served as the director of the Maryland State Girls Olympic Development Program in addition to her duties as a Region I staff coach. She is also a clinician for the Maryland State Youth Soccer Association and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America convention.

She is a 1990 graduate of North Carolina with a bachelor of arts degree in industrial relations.

In the summer of 2001, she served as a color commentator for the WUSA's Washingtom Freedom in television broadcasts aired on Comcast SportsNet.

Shannon Danise Higgins-Cirovski was born on Feb. 20, 1968 and grew up in Kent, Washington.

The Cirovskis have three daughters, Hailey (10), Karli (8) and Ellie Summer (2).

Emily Janss

Assistant Coach
First Season at Maryland
Third Season as an Assistant Coach
Maryland '99

Janss returns to her alma mater after playing professional soccer with the WUSA's New York Power and spending the last two seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Arkansas. In addition to her coaching responsibilities, Janss was also the recruiting coordinator for the Lady Razorbacks. Janss has also worked as a youth club soccer coach in Arkansas and has recently obtained her USSF "C" License.

"Emily brings a great deal of experience to Maryland, including three years in the WUSA," Head Coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski said. "She will be a tremendous asset to our program on and off the field."

A star under Higgins-Cirovski from 1996-99 at Maryland, Janss was selected as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference's 50th Anniversary Team in 2002, one of five Terps on the prestigious squad. Janss, an All-ACC first team selection in 1999 and a second-team honoree in 1997 and 1998, led the Terps to NCAA bids between '96 and '99 while tallying 42 points on 17 goals and eight assists during her career. She is second all-time at Maryland in games played with 95 and earned All-America honors from Soccer Buzz in 1997. She was also a two-time ACC All-Tournament selection and four-time Soccer America Team of the Week honoree.

Janss was a standout for the Terps from 1996-99 and played professionally for the WUSA's New York Power.

Ali Wolff-Toole

Assistant Coach
First Season at Maryland
Third Season as an Assistant Coach
Maryland '01

Wolff-Toole joins the Terrapins after serving as an assistant coach at Loyola College since May 2002, where she was responsible for training the Greyhound goalkeepers. She has also coached at Loyola and Maryland women's soccer camps.

"Ali was a tremendous leader for our program on and off the field while she was here," Higgins-Cirovski said. "She has been able to gain valuable coaching experience after her college career ended."

Wolff-Toole was a goalkeeper for Maryland from 1997-2001 and finished her career among the all-time leaders in shutouts (first, 20.5), games played (second, 68), games started (second, 63), minutes played (second, 5,513), saves (third, 254) and goals against average (fourth, 1.57). An All-ACC honoree during her senior campaign in 2001, Wolff-Toole led all conference keepers in shutouts against conference opponents (three) and was among the ACC leaders with nine total shutouts.. Her save percentage that season, .765, was also among the best in the conference.

Ali married Maryland Alum and former golfer Peter Toole on August 9, 2003. Wolff-Toole graduated from Maryland in 2001 with a bachelor's of science degree in kinesiology.

Wolff-Toole graduated from Maryland in 2001 and returns after having spent two seasons at Loyola (Md.)

Review Notebook

- The Maryland Terrapins women's soccer team finished the 2003 season with a mark of 11-8-2 overall after reaching their eighth NCAA Tournament in the last nine years. The Terps were ranked during much of the season and finished No. 22 in the Soccer America poll at the end of the regular-season.
- The Terps had many players earn honors for their play during the 2003 season. Here is a look at them.
- Sophomore Kimmy Francis was named to the NSCAA/adidas All Mid-Atlantic Region Third Team as she led the Terps in scoring with 24 points on team-highs of nine goals and six assists. She was named the Offensive MVP of the Maryland/adidas Classic after scoring the game-winning goal to beat No. 23 Tennessee on Sept. 20. She was also named ACC Player of the Week and named to the Soccer America Team of the Week on Sept. 22. Francis was also named to the ACC All-Tournament team after scoring both goals in a 2-1 win over No. 23 Clemson in the ACC Tournament First Round.
- Sophomore Mallory Mahar made a successful return from ACL surgery to play in 20 of 21 games, starting the final 13 and earned NSCAA/adidas All Mid-Atlantic Region Third Team honors as well as a spot on the All-ACC Second Team. It marked the second consecutive season that Mahar had earned both honors. Overall, she had 10 points on four goals and two assists -- with all of the goals coming on headers.
- Senior Jenny Biscoe was named to the All-ACC Second Team after a tough gritty year in which she played in all 21 games, posting 10 points on three goals and four assists. Biscoe was also named to the Maryland/adidas Classic All-Tournament Team. Joining her on that team were sophomore Ali Andrzejewski and Kristen Barnhill.
- Freshman defender Ashly Kennedy was stellar on defense all season in her first collegiate season. She started all 20 games and played 1752 minutes. She helped the Terps' defense to a 1.20 goals against average as they did not allow more than one goal in the final 10 games of the season. She posted her first college goal at George Mason on Oct. 22.

TOP-NOTCH TERPS IN 2003

- The 2003 season was one of major achievements and accomplishments for the Maryland women's soccer team. Here are a few of the notable events and moments.
- The Maryland women's soccer team returned to the NCAA Women's College Cup for the third consecutive year and eighth time in nine years as they faced Rutgers in the first round of 2003 at Penn State. Following the 1-1 regulation tie, the Terps now have a 6-7-1 record in NCAA Tournament games, 5-2-1 in the first round.
- The Terps posted four wins over Top 25 teams last season as they beat No. 23 Tennessee (3-1 on Sept. 20), No. 24 Clemson (2-1 on Oct. 10), No. 16 Wake Forest (5-1 on Oct. 25) and No. 23 Clemson (2-1 on Nov. 5 in the ACC Tournament). The four wins over ranked teams marked the first time since 1999 that Maryland accomplished that feat. Overall, the Terps have 37 wins over Top 25 teams with 14 of them coming since 1999 when Shannon Higgins-Cirovski took over at Maryland.
- On defense, the Terps allowed just nine goals over the last 10 games of the season for a 0.85 GAA. No opponent scored more than one goal on Terp goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill over the last 10 games. Maryland allowed just 26 goals in 2003 after giving up 33 the previous year.
- The Terps had a knack for scoring the early goal in 2003. On 10 occasions, Maryland scored within the first 18 minutes of a game, with seven of those coming in the first 6:20 of the game. Overall, the Terps were 10-1-1 when they scored the first goal.
- Maryland reached the double-figure win total for the 11th time in history and eighth in the last nine years -- all of the team's NCAA Tournament berths.

SENIOR SALUTE

- Here's a look at the 2003 senior class featuring goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill, midfielder Jenny Biscoe, defender Lindsay Givens, forward Katie Ludwig and midfielder Audra Poulin as well as defender Carly Viher, who missed the last three seasons after suffering several knee injuries and Midfielder/defender Valerie Lawrence, who served as an undergraduate assistant coach this season. Lawrence played three seasons with the Terps (1999-2001).
- Senior goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill out of Charlottesville, Va., was a consistent performer in the goal for Maryland, she started the last 30 games dating back to last October. Overall, she played in 36 career games with a 1.26 goals against average. In 2003, she led the ACC with 94 saves and was among the leaders with a 1.20 GAA. She lifted Maryland to its first-ever shutout of rival Virginia -- her hometown team -- in her first career start (2002).
- Senior midfielder Jenny Biscoe, from Baltimore, Md., was the engine of the Terps' midfield for her last three seasons after returning from a torn ACL suffered as a freshman. One of the greatest playmakers in program history, Biscoe tallied 18 career assists - tied for fifth all-time in school history. She played in 64 career games, starting 60 and scoring 11 goals for a total of 40 points. She also ranks fourth all-time at Maryland in career game-winning goals with seven. She was named to the 2002 All-ACC Team, the 2002 ACC All-Tournament Team and Soccer Buzz and NSCAA All-Mid Atlantic Team in 2001. She served as a team captain in both 2002 and 2003.

- Senior defender Lindsay Givens, known for her trademark throw-in, is tied with Biscoe in career assists with 18 on the all-time Maryland list. Remarkably, she picked up 12 of those 18 assists on throw-ins. She started all 84 games of her career which dates back to 1999 with the Terps. Her 84 games is the 10th most at Maryland in history. She played on four NCAA Tournament teams and was named a Freshman All-American as well as being named to the Soccer Buzz first team Mid-Atlantic squad and the All-ACC Second Teaem in 2001. She was a three-year captain.
- Senior midfielder/forward Katie Ludwig will go down as one of the all-time greatest scorers in Maryland history. With 19 career goals and 49 career points, she is ranked eighth all-time at Maryland on both lists. She has played in 81 career games all around the field -- on defense, at midfield and at forward over her four years. She was named to the 2002 All-ACC First Team and named a NSCAA Mid-Atlantic First-Team honoree by Soccer Buzz in 2002.
- Senior midfielder Audra Poulin played in 78 career games, starting 65 of them. She has 36 career points on 14 goals and eight assists. She scored some of the biggest goals in Terp history, including her first career goal to upset No. 9 Clemson back in 2001. She was named to the 2000 ACC All-Freshman Team.
- Despite being sidelined for the past three seasons due to injury, Carly Viher was the ultimate teammate and supporter of the Terps. She played in 41 career games, starting 40 on defense in 1999 and 2000. She tallied her only career goal as the game-winner to beat Rutgers in 2000. She was named to the Soccer Buzz Mid-Atlantic Region Third Team and All-Freshman Team in 1999.

ACC LEADS THE WAY

- The Atlantic Coast Conference had the highest percentage of its teams in the 2003 Women's College Cup field with 87.5 percent as seven of the eight schools fielding women's soccer made the postseason. That equals the league record set in 2001.
- The Big 12 Conference leads all conferences with eight teams in the tournament. Seven teams will represent the ACC, six teams will represent the Big East Conference and the Big Ten Conference each.
- The ACC has three of the top 11 seeds. No. 1 North Carolina won its 18th national championship, while No. 11 seed Florida State reached it first NCAA College Cup, falling to Connecticut in the semifinals.

AGAINST THE FIELD

- Maryland played 14 pre-NCAA Tournament games against teams in the NCAA Tournament last season and had a 7-7 mark against those foes. The Terps had wins over Clemson (2-1 twice), No. 14 Tennessee (3-1), Wake Forest (5-1), Navy (2-1), Loyola (1-0) and William & Mary (2-1).
- Only North Carolina (16) and Florida State (15) played more games against teams in the field heading into the tournament. Of course, those two teams made the NCAA College Cup with UNC winning the title.

HIGGINS-CIROVSKI IN NCAA'S

- Maryland head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski coached in her fifth NCAA Tournament in 2003 and fourth with Maryland. She led George Washington to its first-ever NCAA bid in 1996 where the Colonials, ironically, lost to Maryland 2-0.
- She is 2-4-1 in NCAA matches with the win in a 1999 first round win over Long Island in her initial playoff game as the Terps' coach. She also lost in the second round of the '99 tournament, 3-2 at Penn State. Last season, she beat American in the first round before also falling to Penn State in the second round, 2-1. Overall, Higgins-Cirovski is 122-103-17 in 12 years, seven at George Washington and five at Maryland.
- As a player, Higgins-Cirovski won four national championships at North Carolina from 1986-89. She scored the game-winning goal in three title games in 1987, 1988 and 1989.

TERPS' STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE AMONG THE NATION'S TOUGHEST

- Heading into the NCAA Tournament, the Terps played the second-toughest schedule in the nation based on opponents' win percentage through the last weekend of the season. Maryland's foes had a 211-114-35 record for a 63.3 win percentage. Only Florida State (66.5) had a higher percentage. Overall, 14 of the 18 Terp opponents in the regular-season had winning records.

SCORING EARLY AND OFTEN

- Maryland had a knack for the early goal in 2003. The Terps scored the game's opening goal -- all within the first 18 minutes of action -- in 10 of the last 17 games. In seven of those instances, the goal came in the first 6:20 of action: Ali Andrzejewski scored 2:54 into the 3-2 win over Towson, Katie Ludwig scored 1:14 into the 1-0 win over Loyola, Simone Dekker scored 2:13 into the 3-1 victory over No. 23 Tennessee, at Florida State, Mallory Mahar headed in a throw-in from Lindsay Givens just 4:38 into the match, and Mahar turned the trick again as she headed in the first goal off a Kimmy Francis' corner kick just 3:39 into the win over James Madison. Andrzejewski scored 10:15 into the 2-1 win over Clemson. Ashly Kennedy opened the scoring at George Mason just 6:20 into the game as she banged in a Francis corner kick. In their last game, the win over Wake Forest, the Terps scored their fastest goal of the year, as Jenny Biscoe headed home a pass from Andrzejewski just 19 seconds into the match. Overall, the Terps scored the first goal in the game 12 times last year and were 10-1-1 in those games.

TERPS MOVING UP ASSIST CHART

- Three Terps moved up the Maryland career assist chart in 2003. Jenny Biscoe and Lindsay Givens leave school tied for fifth in assists with 18. Biscoe picked up her 18th career helper assisting Kimmy Francis' opening goal in the win over Navy.
- Givens got her last helper in the ACC Tournament win over Clemson -- her fourth of the season -- and first not on a throw-in this season.
- Kimmy Francis now has 14 career assists and is tied for eighth on the list heading into her third year with the Terps. She tallied six assists in 2003 -- four on corner kicks. Overall eight of her 14 career assists have come on corner kicks.
- Biscoe led the squad in assists last season with nine including a school-record tying three at Rutgers on Sept. 6, 2002. Dana Jarzyniecki set the record originally vs. Howard on Oct. 11, 2000.

PLAYING THE BEST

- The Terps, who reached the first round of the NCAA Women's College Cup last season, faced 11 teams that played in the 2002 College Cup in the process. They will have faced six teams that finished the 2002 season ranked in the NSCAA Top 25 including three from the top ten in No. 3 North Carolina, No. 4 Penn State and No. 10 Tennessee.
- Maryland hosted two of the four teams that advanced to the NCAA College Cup Semifinals in North Carolina (4-0 loss on Oct. 5.) and Penn State (3-0 loss on Sept. 7). The Terps also faced 2002 NCAA qualifiers and ACC foes Florida State (2-1 loss on Sept. 26), Clemson (2-1 win on Oct. 10), Virginia (1-0 loss on Oct. 14) and Wake Forest (5-1 win on Oct. 25).
- The wins over No. 23 Tennessee and No. 24 Clemson marked the 34th and 35th victories for the Terps over a ranked team since the program started in 1987, all of those wins have come since 1991. Those wins were the 11th and 12th over a ranked team with Higgins-Cirovski as the Terps' head coach. She added to the list with the 5-1 pounding of Wake Forest on Oct. 25. In the ACC Quarterfinals, Maryland beat No. 23 Clemson, 2-1, for the 37th program win over a top-25 team.
- During each of Higgins-Cirovski's seasons at Maryland, she has led the Terps to at least one upset win or tie of a top-10 ranked team, leading Maryland to a 4-3 win at No. 9 Duke on Sept. 19, 1999 and a 2-1 victory over Clemson on Oct. 17, 1999; a 3-1 win over No. 4 Penn State on Aug. 29, 2000; a 1-0 overtime over No. 8 Clemson on Oct. 13, 2001, and a 1-1 tie at No. 2 North Carolina last season, on Nov. 1, 2002.
- Maryland has played the No. 1 team in the country on 17 occasions, 16 vs. North Carolina and once vs. Notre Dame in 1996 and is still seeking its first victory in a game vs. the No. 1 team.

FRANCIS NAMED ACC PLAYER OF THE WEEK

- Sophomore midfielder/forward Kimmy Francis was named this week's Atlantic Coast Conference Women's Soccer Player of the Week after leading the Terps to the Maryland/adidas Classic title over on the weekend of Sept. 17-20. She was also named to the Soccer America Team of the Week of the first time in her career.
- Francis, a Richboro, Pa., native was named the Offensive Most Valuable Player of the Classic, having led Maryland to wins over Loyola and No. 23 Tennessee. Versus the Greyhounds, the sophomore dished out an assist on the game-winning goal, knocking off Loyola, 1-0. Later in the weekend, the midfielder/forward recorded the game-winning goal against the Lady Vols.

TERPS WIN 2003 MARYLAND/ADIDAS CLASSIC

- The Terps captured the title of the 2003 Maryland/adidas Classic on Sept. 20, at the Maryland SoccerPlex in Germantown, Md., as they downed No. 23 Tennessee (ranked No. 11 by Soccer America), 3-1. It was Maryland's first home tournament championship since 1997.
- Sophomore midfielder Kimmy Francis continued her red-hot scoring streak as she netted the game-winning goal with a blast from the top of the box in the 31st minute to put the Terps ahead for good, 2-1 against Tennessee. Francis was named the Classic's Offensive MVP as she also assisted the only goal in the first-round win over Loyola, 1-0, at Ludwig Field.
- Senior midfielder Jen Biscoe, senior goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill and sophomore forward Ali Andrzejewski were named to the All-Tournament team along with Francis. Biscoe was an engine in the Terps' midfield in both wins, and set up Audra Poulin, on the Terps' third goal in the win over the Lady Vols to seal the victory. Barnhill made seven saves as she picked up two wins in the Classic, including four vs. Loyola, as she posted her fifth career shutout. Andrzejewski assisted the Terps' first two goals in the win over Tennessee as she celebrated her 19th birthday on Saturday.
- The tournament was played over three days in a four-day stretch and at two locations, due to Hurricane Isabel, the women's World Cup opening game at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., on Sunday and a conflict with the Maryland/West Virginia game at Byrd Stadium on Saturday. Tennessee took second place as they defeated William & Mary, 2-1, on Thursday, Sept. 18.

TERPS ON TV TWICE ON 2003

- For the second year in a row, Maryland's women's soccer team was on television at least two times during the season. Last season, Maryland was 2-0 in TV games, winning 5-2 at Rutgers in a game broadcast by CN8 and 4-2 at Florida State on Sunshine Network.
- Maryland-Florida State game in Tallahassee was televised live on Sunshine Network on Friday, Sept. 26 as the Seminoles defeated the Terps, 2-1. The Maryland-North Carolina game at Ludwig Field on Oct. 5 was shown live on Comcast SportsNet and CN8-TV as part of the network's "Game of the Week" package.

THE 2003 CAPTAINS

- Maryland had a trio of team captains this season: midfielder Jen Biscoe and defenders Lindsay Givens and Jennifer Lovecchio. Givens served as a captain for the past two seasons while Biscoe was in her second season as captain and Lovecchio her first. Both Biscoe and Givens were both named to the NSCAA Mid-Atlantic team in 2001.

WHAT'S UP WITH WOMEN'S SOCCER

- Maryland sophomore midfielder Danielle Malagari wrote this season's team journal, "What's Up With Women's Soccer." The sophomore opened the diary with a five-day journal from the team's team to Seattle to open the season. She continued with periodic updates during the season and wrapped up after the NCAA game with Rutgers.

Game Recaps

Game 1 • Aug. 29
Arena Sports ACC/Pac-10 Challenge

Washington 2, No. 23 Maryland 1 [OT]

SEATTLE - In Maryland head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski's homecoming, the Terps dropped a heart-breaking 2-1 decision in overtime to the host Huskies in the first round of the Arena Sports Pac-10/ ACC Challenge.

Washington's Tina Frimpong scored from about 12 yards out off a scrmable as she collected a loose ball and scored off a pass from Kim Taylor to give Washington the win. It was the second time in the game, that the combo had hooked up as they gave Washington the opening goal in the 29th minute.

Overtime featured several chances for both teams. Simone Dekker had a chance to win the the game midway through the first overtime, as she banged a shot off the crossbar from about 25 yards out.

Washington also had a great chance on a fast break by Frompong, who passed it off to Taylor with 5:27 left in the first overtime to set up a Husky opportunity. With Maryland goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill out of the net, defender Lauren Krasko made a defensive save to keep the game tied at 1-1.

Frimpong had another chance with 3:18 left but Barnhill stoned her with her 11th save of the game — a new career high.

The Terps had evened the score as Dekker scored in the 37th minute as the speedy sophomore converted a throw-in by senior captain Lindsay Givens (Downingtown, Pa.). For Givens, the assist was the 15th of her career moving her into a tie for fifth all-time at Maryland. It was also her 10th career assist in a throw-in over her four-year career.

Washington opened the scoring as they finally converted after they peppered Maryland's goalkeeper Barnhill. for the first 30 minutes. Tina Frimpong nailed a 15-yard shot after Barnhill committed leaving an open net. That put Washington up 1-0.

Prior to the goal, Barnhill was amazing in goal, as she made seven saves in the first 20 minutes including a penalty kick save on the Huskies' leading scorer Melissa Bennett with 26:08 left in the first half. Those seven saves alone equaled her career-high in a single game, which she accomplished three times last season.

Game 2 • Aug. 31
Arena Sports ACC/Pac-10 Challenge

No. 23 Maryland 3, Washington State 0

SEATTLE - Sophomore Kimmy Francis scored two goals in a span of 1:11 as the No. 23 Terps topped the Washington State Cougars 3-0 in the Arena Sports Pac-10/ACC Challenge at Husky Stadium on a beautiful sunny Sunday afternoon.

Francis got the Terps on the board as she scored on a penalty kick in the 25th minute. Francis knocked the ball into the lower right corner converting her first goal of the year. The PK was awarded as a shot by senior Katie Ludwig was knocked down with a handball by Washington State's Mariette Boyce.

Francis than struck again just more than a minute later as she converted a cross from the left wing from sophomore Simone Dekker and beat Cougar keeper Sara Leibowitz from about eight yards out to make it 2-0 with 19:06 left in the fist half.

Francis and the Terps received a scare as the All-ACC selection went down with a right ankle injury less than three minutes later and sat out the rest of the game. She was diagnosed right ankle ligament strain and will be re-evaluated when the team returns to College Park.

No. 24 Maryland 2, William & Mary 1

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. - The No. 24 Maryland women's soccer team rallied back with two goals in the final 10 minutes to come away with a 2-1 victory at William & Mary. The Terps moved to 2-1, while William & Mary fell to 1-2.

Senior midfielder Audra Poulin scored the game-winning goal on a sensational individual play as she deked two Tribe defenders and then Tribe goalkeeper Nikki Villott from about 20 yards out to put the Terps up 2-1 with 6:42 left in regulation.

"We showed great character coming back the way we did with two late goals," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "William & Mary really tried to stretch us but I was proud of the way offense worked to get many opportunities and that we finally finished two late in the game."

With 10:43, the Terps tied the game at 1-1 as senior midfielder Katie Ludwig scored off a rebound shot taken by sophomore Mallory Mahar which finished off a flurry of Maryland shots.

William & Mary opened the scoring about ten minutes into the second half after a scoreless first half. The Tribe's Katie Hogwood popped a ball over the Maryland defense and beat Maryland goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill .

Maryland dominated possession in the first half and outshot the Tribe 9-2

Barnhill finished with four saves for the Terps, which have now won three in a row in the series with William & Mary.

No. 13 Penn State 3, No. 24 Maryland 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Revenge was on the minds of the Maryland's women's soccer team entering their home opener against No. 13 Penn State Sunday at Ludwig Field.

Nearly 10 months ago, those same Nittany Lions eliminated the Terps from the 2003 NCAA Tournament with a 2-1 victory in College Park.

But an early goal by sophomore striker Tiffany Weimer deflated the Terps and the Lion defense, from keeper Amanda Brown, staved off several good second-half scoring opportunities en route to a 3-0 victory in front of 1,032. The 24th-ranked Terps fall to 2-2, Penn State moves to 3-1.

"I thought Penn State's defense and their goalkeeper played very well," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "But I was pleased with our play and the amount of possession time we had. I feel we really battled this team very hard for much of the game. We had some chances late in the game but couldn't finish them off."

With Penn State up 1-0 for most of the match, Maryland mounted a charge with about eight minutes left in regulation as Katie Ludwig fired a point-blank shot that was stopped by Brown which began a flurry. About a minute later Jen Biscoe blasted a shot that went high to the right over the PSU net. Then freshman Ashly Kennedy had one great chance again point blank with Brown, who came up huge again with a stop.

Following the Terps' opportunities, Penn State capitalized as Heidi Drummond scored a breakaway as Maryland goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill came out the net and Drummond moved by her scoring into an empty goal with 2:38 left in the game.

Then with just six second left Stephanie Smith converted a shot off the crossbar that bounced in off a scramble from the right corner flag with time counting down.

Brown finished with three saves, all of them in the second half. Barnhill also had three stops.

Game 5 • Sept. 12

Maryland 3, Towson 2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sophomore midfielder Kimmy Francis netted a pair of goals and added an assist for a career-high five points as the Maryland women's soccer team posted a 3-2 victory over local rival Towson on a wet and rainy night at Ludwig Field. The Terps moved to 3-2 overall while Towson remains winless at 0-4.

Maryland controlled the ball much of the game, but Towson hung tough scoring their first two goals ever in the series with the Terps, spanning four meetings.

Sophomore Ali Andrzejewski opened the scoring as she shot a ball that skidded past Towson keeper Yasmin Alter in the third minute to make it 1-0. Francis was credited with an assist to kick off her big scoring night.

Towson retaliated with its second goal of the season as Emma Noonan blasted home a shot from about 30 yards out was lofted over the head of Maryland keeper Kristen Barnhill. That made it 1-1 in the seventh minute.

After both teams had several chances, Maryland took advantage of a Towson foul in the box as Shannon Jackson was whistled for a hand ball. Francis knocked in the penalty kick with 2:32 left in the first half to put Maryland ahead for good. The PK goal was Francis' second of the season.

The Terps built the lead to 3-1 in the 63rd minute as Francis took a pass from Jen Biscoe and scored from a deep right angle into the left side of the net. For Francis, the goal gave her five points, a new career high, besting her previous high of four accomplished twice before including vs. Washington State this season. on Aug. 31.

For Biscoe, the assist was the 15th of her career and moved her into a tie for fifth place all-time at Maryland in career helpers along with current Terp Lindsay Givens and current Towson coach Leslie Kehrin Wray, who played at Maryland from 1992-94.

Noonan came back for her second goal of the night to make it 3-2 as she knocked in a goal off a scramble in the box right in front of new Terp keeper Anna Sheveland in the 70th minute.

Barnhill made two saves while Sheveland was credited with one along with her first career victory in her collegiate debut. Alter made seven saves for the Tigers.

Maryland 2, George Washington 2 [2OT]

WASHINGTON, D.C.- Maryland head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski led her current team to a 2-2 tie against her former team -- George Washington, on a cloudy Sunday at the Mount Vernon Complex. The Terps moved to 3-2-1 overall, the Colonials are 3-1-1.

Higgins-Cirovski, who served as the head coach at George Washington from 1991-97 and was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame last February, is now 4-0-1 all-time against the Colonials. Maryland has an 8-0-2 record in the last 10 games against George Washington dating to 1995.

Maryland had several chances in overtime to win the game. The best chances came on consecutive opportunities with eight minutes left in the second overtime. Senior Katie Ludwig was stopped on a point-blank shot by GW keeper Anna Handzlik. Off the rebound, sophomore Simone Dekker had another chance but defender Caite Terranova made the stop to preserve the tie.

Audra Poulin got the Terps on the board as she headed home a perfectly placed corner kick from Kimmy Francis to put the Terps ahead, 1-0, 15:44 into the match.

After George Washington started out with an offensive flurry, the Terps controlled the action as Maryland took nine of the last 10 shots of the half. Colonial keeper Anna Handzlik made seven saves in the first half.

The Terps took a 2-0 lead on an own goal in the 56th minute. Colonials defender Caite Terrenova was attempting to pass the ball back Handzlik, but a miscommunication led to the keeper coming out the goal and ball going into the net.

The Colonials got on the board with their first goal against Maryland since 1998, as defender Kelly Lawten scored her first career goal in the 74th minute, making it 2-1. Lawten headed in a corner kick from Ina Kain past goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill.

GW's speedy senior Kim Warner tied the game with 4:29 left in regulation as she look a long serve from Lawten and scored her fourth goal of the season to make it 2-2. Warner blasted her shot past Barnhill into the lower right corner of the goal.

Barnhill made six saves while Handzlik had 14 saves for the Colonials.

Game 7 • Sept. 17
Maryland/adidas Classic

Maryland 1, Loyola 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - With Hurricane Isabel looming on the horizon, Maryland blanked Loyola 1-0 in the rescheduled first game of the Maryland/adidas Classic at a breezy Ludwig Field. The game was set to be played one night later but with the hurricane on the horizon, the teams agreed to move the game back one day.

Katie Ludwig's second-minute goal was the sole tally, though both teams had several good scoring opportunities in the second half. Ludwig received the ball near the 18-yard box on passes from Kimmy Francis and Simone Dekker and her blast deflected off a Loyola defender past keeper Erica Niemann into the lower right corner of the net.

"It was a real boost to get a goal so early in the game," said Maryland head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirvoski. "On the defensive side, we were very connected tonight and that helped us when Loyola built up the pressure. This was a good win for us."

The Greyhounds had two near-goals in the second half on a 64th minute header by Ashley Kramer that hit the crossbar and an 86th minute bender from Carolyn Kennington, the Hounds' leading scorer, which also deflected off the crossbar.

Maryland had several chances to extend their lead, but could not capitalize on 13 second-half shots.

With the win, Maryland moves to 8-0 all-time versus Loyola and has outscored the Hounds 25-3. Kristen Barnhill registered four saves in recording her fifth career shutout.

In the other first-round game, played on Thursday, Sept. 18 morning, No. 23 Tennessee knocked off William & Mary, 2-1, in double overtime as Keeley Dowling scored her second of two goals for the winner.

Game 8 • Sept. 20
Maryland/adidas Classic

Maryland 3, No. 23 Tennessee 1

GERMANTOWN, Md. - Maryland captured the 2003 Maryland/adidas Classic with a 3-1 victory over No. 23 Tennessee (ranked No. 11 by Soccer America) at the Maryland SoccerPlex in Germantown, Md.

Sophomore Kimmy Francis was named the tournament Offensive MVP as she scored the game-winning goal to put the Terps ahead 2-1 in the 31st inute with a blast from the top of the box. Tennessee's Keeley Dowling was the Defensive MVP.

The Terps (5-2-1) controlled the game in all facets, outshooting the Lady Vols (6-2), 15-8. The win was the Terps' 34th all-time against a team ranked in the NSCAA Top 25. "I was very happy with how many players contributed to this victory," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "It was a total team effort and I pleased with how we finished our chances and really playd solid defense."

Maryland jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead as sophomore Simone Dekker banged in a rebound from two yards out just 2:13 into the match. Dekker converted a shot taken by Katie Ludwig from the far right wing that was punched out by Tennessee keeper Vanessa Phillips-Bosshart. Ali Andrzejewski had taken the first shot in the series from the top of the box that the keeper saved to start the flurry.

Tennessee tied the game as Kristen Doukakis scored in the 29th minute. She knocked in the goal from about 10 yards out as she took a pass from Lyndsey Patterson and beat Maryland keeper Kristen Barnhill, who committed as the ball was shot into the low right corner.

The Terps regained the lead in the 31st minute as Francis blasted home a shot from the top of the box to put the Terps up 2-1. Francis took pass from Andrzejewski, who had taken a pass from defender Lindsay Niehaus, who brought the pass up field.

Barnhill made a key save -- her first of the game -- with 20 minutes left in regulation as she came out to play Doukakis, who was in all alone and the keeper stoned her to keep the score at 2-1. She finished with three saves.

The Terps built the lead to an insurmountable 3-1 margin with 4:29 left in regulation as senior Audra Poulin went top shelf from the close right corner off a pass from fellow senior Jen Biscoe.

Joining Francis on the All-Tournament team were fellow Terps Andrzejewski -- who celebrated her 19th birthday on Saturday, Barnhill and Biscoe. From Tennessee, Dowling was joined by Marie-Eve Nauly and Lyndsey Patterson. William & Mary, who beat Loyola, 2-1, in earlier action, was represented by Anna Young and Donna Mataya. Loyola was represented by Rebecca Brady and Courtney Arikian.

The tournament championship marked the first time since 1997 the Terps won a home tournament.

Florida State 2, Maryland 1

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.-- In the ACC opener for both teams, Florida State downed Maryland, ranked No. 14 by Soccer America, 2-1 at the Seminole Soccer Complex before 1,116 and a television audience on Sunshine Network.

Florida State scored the decisive goal as Camie Bybee headed in a throw-in by Kelly Rowland in the 71st minute.

The loss ended the Terps' four-game undefeated streak as Maryland moves to 5-3-1 overall. Florida State moves above .500 at 5-4 with thier fourth win in a row.

Mallory Mahar's first start of the season got the Terps off on the right foot -- or head -- as she responded with her first goal of the season. Mahar headed in a long throw-in by Lindsay Givens just 4:38 into the match to put the Terps ahead 1-0.

For Mahar, the goal marked the fifth time in her six career goals that she scored on a header.

For Givens, the assist was the 16th in her career moving her into a tie for fifth on the all-time Maryland career assist list with teammate Jen Biscoe. Also, 11 of those 16 helpers have come on her patented throw-ins.

It marked the fifth straight game the Terps opened the scoring and fourth time in those five games that the opening goal came in the first five minutes.

Florida State responded as Leah Gallegos scored five minutes later, 9:34 into the match. Gallegos collected a failed clearing attempt by the Maryland defense off a header shot and one-timed the ball past Terp keeper Kristen Barnhill .

Maryland appeared to have taken a 2-1 lead 14 minutes into the game as Mahar headed in a Kimmy Francis corner kick, but the goal was not called despite the fact that it clearly crossed the line. That ball was then handed out of the goal by FSU's India Trotter which could have resulted in a red card and a penalty kick, but neither was called as action continued.

2003 senior Lindsay Givens finished her career tied for fifth on the school's all-time assist list.

Game 10 • Oct. 1

Maryland 6, James Madison 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The Terps scored early and often as they pounded James Madison, 6-0 at a brisk Ludwig Field on Wednesday night. Senior captain Jen Biscoe netted her first career multi-goal game -- for her first two goals of the season -- as Maryland moved to 6-3-1 on the season. Senior Katie Ludwig also added two goals in the win. Each player posted a career-high five points, adding one assist apiece.

The six-goal outburst is the most scored by the Terps since Oct. 11, 2000, as they overtook Howard 9-0.

"We were the stronger team in this game," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "We came out focused and went after it early. It feels good to finally have a game like this, this season."

Maryland, ranked No. 22 by Soccer America, netted three goals in the first 18 minutes including two in the first 9:15 to mount its biggest offensive attack of the season.

Sophomore Mallory Mahar opened the scoring with one of her patented header goals for the second game in row. The midfielder converted the header off a corner kick from sophomore Kimmy Francis just 3:39 into the game.

It marked the sixth straight game the Terps scored the game's first goal and the fifth time in those six that the goal came in the first five minutes.

Biscoe finally got off the goal-scoring schneid as she scored her first of the season to make it 2-0, 9:15 into the game. Biscoe converted a pass from junior Lindsay Niehaus, who took a pass from Ludwig as the play developed.

The onslaught continued as sophomore Ali Andrzejewski blasted a shot from about 20 yards out over JMU keeper Jessica Hussey. Her second score of the year made it 3-0 just 17:59 into the game.

Biscoe built the lead to 4-0 as she scored with 15 minutes left in regulation. Her shot from about 20 yards out deflected off goalkeeper Amanda Hutchings' hands and into the goal.

Ludwig got into the scoring column as she netted her third goal of the year with 7:28 left in the game. Ludwig took a pass from freshman Liz Foley, who was credited with her first collegiate point.

The All-ACC selection Ludwig finished the scoring as she was credited with her second of the game as Biscoe's shot deflected off her backside and into the goal with 3:45 left in the action. Simone Dekker (Ringwood, N.J.).

Ludwig now has 44 career points to move into a tie for eighth all-time at Maryland on the all-time scoring chart. She's tied with Audra Weber (1991-94), who also had 44.

Maryland goalkeepers Kristen Barnhill and Mariel Wilner combined for three saves in the shutout.

No. 1 North Carolina 4, Maryland 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - No. 1 North Carolina downed Maryland, 4-0, in women's soccer action at Ludwig Field on a sunny afternoon. The undefeated Tar Heels moved to 13-0 overall and 2-0 in the ACC while the Terps fall to 6-4-1 and 0-2 in league play. The game was televised live on Comcast SportsNet.

The Tar Heels got on the board just 6:41 into the match as leading-scorer Lindsay Tarpley converted a pass from Jordan Walker and beat Maryland goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill to the top left corner.

UNC made it 2-0 as Heather O'Reilly took a cross from Alyssa Ramsey from the left post and beat Barnhill, 21:23 into the match.

Just after the Heels built a two-goal lead, Maryland had its best chance of the game as Mallory Mahar headed a hard shot off a corner kick from Kimmy Francis. But UNC keeper Aly Winget stopped the attempt for one of her six saves in the game.

The Tar Heels continued to control the game as they outshot Maryland 10-3 in the first half. The second half was more of the same as UNC outshot the Terps 17-5 for a game margin of 27-8.

North Carolina made it 3-0 as they scored on an own goal as a corner kick by Ramsey was headed into the goal by a Maryland defender with 34 minutes left in regulation.

About three minutes later, the Heels made it a four-goal game as Tarpley netted her team-high 12th goal of the year as she tapped in a ball that was misplayed by the Terps' defense.

Barnhill was strong in goal for the Terps as she tied a career high with 10 saves. She also made 10 stops vs. Washington in the season opener this season.

North Carolina now holds a 20-0-1 advantage in the all-time series with the tie coming last season down in Chapel Hill, N.C.

Maryland 2, No. 24 Clemson 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Maryland women's soccer fans have come to expect the obvious when the No. 24 Clemson Tigers visit Ludwig Field. There would be no letdown for the season-high crowd of 1,516 Friday night as the Terps held on for a 2-1 victory -- the sixth straight one-goal affair against Clemson -- on Alumni Night to notch their first ACC win of the year. Maryland is now a perfect 6-0 at home in the series dating back to 1994.

"We battled the way we needed to to win a game like this," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "I really feel this was a game we needed to win and I'm happy with the way we performed."

Ten minutes into the match, the Terps (7-4-1, 1-2 ACC) capitalized on a Clemson defensive zone turnover as Ali Andrzejewski blasted a shot from the left edge of the box past keeper Lauren Whitt, who had allowed only three goals all season coming into tonight with a 0.27 goals-against average.

The Terps have scored the first goal of the game in seven of the last eight with all seven coming in the first 16 minutes.

Maryland, ranked No. 23 by Soccer America, kept up the offensive pressure throughout the first half, but failed to convert several good scoring opportunities. The Terp defense held Clemson at bay for much of the first half, forcing them into several turnovers and holding them to only five shots.

However, the second half would open with better fortune for the home squad when Mallory Mahar trickled a header past a crowded Clemson goal line seven minutes into the half. It was Mahar's seventh career goal on a header, including all three this season. Throw-in specialist Lindsay Givens set up Mahar with a perfect entry pass. It was Givens' 17th career assist - and 12th of a throw-in - which ties her for fifth in Maryland history with teammate Jen Biscoe.

The Tigers (7-3-2, 1-1), who remain winless on the road this season, struck back 10 minutes later when Courtney Foster got past the Terp backline on a through pass from Allison Graham and touched it past keeper Kristen Barnhill to pull Clemson to within one.

But the Terp offense would create several good scoring chances only to be repeatedly stopped by Whitt, who kept the game within reach. Whitt finished with nine saves, including a point-blank stop on a Kimmy Francis blast and a Mahar header midway through the half.

The win was the Terps' second win this season against a Top 25 team (a 3-1 win over No. 23 Tennessee on Sept. 20) and 35th all-time.

No. 6 Virginia 1, Maryland 0

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - Playing in a torrential driving rain storm at Klockner Stadium, No. 6 Virginia downed Maryland, 1-0 in ACC women's soccer action.

The teams battled the horrendous elements all night as the field continued to become more and more saturated as the game progressed. Klockner had numerous puddles of standing water by midway through the second half. It marked the fourth consecutive game at Virginia between the teams which was effected by wet conditions - as it had been in 1997, 1999 and 2001.

Virginia extended its undefeated streak to 11 games and is now 11-1-2 overall, 3-0-1 in the conference. Maryland fell to 7-5-1 overall, 1-3 in ACC play.

Maryland, ranked No. 19 by Soccer America, had many chances in the second half as they outshot the Cavaliers, 9-5. But the constant rain affected both teams as shots came up short and landed in pools of water.

Virginia scored the only goal as Kelly Hammond scored in the 21st minute. Hammond scored on a back kick off a cross from the right post that slipped past Kristen Barnhill and slid into the goal despite Jen Biscoe's attempt to save the ball. Lindsay Gusick and Sarah Huffman were credited with assists on the Bowie, Maryland, native's 10th goal of the season.

Maryland's only shot of the half came 32 seconds after the goal as Katie Ludwig blasted a ball from 17 yards out that was stopped by Anne Abernethy to keep it 1-0.

The Terps opened the second half with heavy pressure as they registered three shots in the first six minutes. They continued to pour on the pressure taking six of the first eight shots of the half as the conditions worsen. Ali Andrzejewski had a great scoring chance with 22 minutes left in regulation but her blast came up a yard short as it landed in a huge pool of water in front of Abernethy.

Game 14 • Oct. 19

NC State 1, Maryland 0

RALEIGH - Despite dominating the game in all aspects, the Maryland women's soccer team lost a 1-0 decision to NC State on a sunny Sunday afternoon at Method Road.

The Terps outshot NC State, 18-4 and took 16 corner kicks compared to just two for NC State. Maryland dominated possession as they controlled the ball for 90 percent of play in the second half as they outshot the Wolfpack, 11-1 and out-corner kicked them, 8-0.

Maryland, ranked No. 19 by Soccer America, fell to 7-6-1 overall, 1-4 in the ACC and NC State moved to 8-6-1, 1-3 in the league.

NC State scored the game's only goal as senior Adrienne Barnes tallied 15:48 into the match. Barnes took a pass from Mandela Schumacher-Hodge and sent a high bending shot from the top of the box over Maryland keeper Kristen Barnhill into the top right corner of the net for the game's opening score.

Maryland had many scoring opportunities late in the first half as it had seven corner kicks in the final 18 minutes of the half. The best chance came as Katie Ludwig blasted a shot off the right goalpost with three minutes left in the first half.

The second half saw more of the same, as the Terps dominated possession as NC State did not possess the ball in Maryland's half of the field for the first 10 minutes of action. The Terps continued to get chances off corner kicks and took the first three shots of the half.

Ashly Kennedy had a great scoring chance on a header shot off a Francis corner kick - her 11th corner of the game - but NC State keeper Kim Selz made the save with 28 minutes left in regulation.

With 21 minutes left, Ludwig had another chance as she headed a ball that appeared to be destined for the goal, but NC State defender Tara Knauss made a defensive save in the right corner of the box, as Selz had come out to play the ball.

Again, Knauss was up to the challenge as she stopped Ludwig on a blast from 12 yards out with 9:40 left in regulation as Selz had come out.

Game 15 • Oct. 22

Maryland 2, George Mason 0

FAIRFAX, Va. - Coming off a pair of tough 1-0 losses, Maryland came out with heart and fury as they posted a 2-0 victory over regional rival George Mason on a chilly and windy Wednesday night. Freshman Ashly Kennedy scored her first career goal and sophomore Mallory Mahar scored her fourth header goal in seven games. Sophomore Kimmy Francis set up both goals with corner kick assists.

The Terps (8-6-1 overall) put the pressure on early and often as they mounted a furious attack all night long. Maryland prevented Mason from having a possession in their offensive end of the field for the first 20 minutes of the game while piling up the first seven shots of the game. The Patriots (7-5-3 overall) did not get a shot off until 18 minutes were left in the first half.

Maryland took a 1-0 lead as the freshman sensation Kennedy scored her first career goal just 6:20 into the match. Kennedy banged in a corner kick from Francis, which was tapped over to Kennedy from Audra Poulin to open the scoring.

The goal marked the seventh time this season the Terps scored within the first 11 minutes of the game. Maryland has scored the first goal on nine occasions this season - going 7-1-1 in those games after the win at Mason.

Mason had its best chance of the game as Amy Alecci sent a shot off the left goalpost with just under 20 minutes left in regulation.

The Terps responded to Mason's scoring chance with a goal of their own as Mahar headed in a corner from Francis with 18:23 left in regulation. For Mahar, the goal was her fourth of the year - all on headers -- and gives Francis six assists on the season. Francis now has 14 career assists tying her with Kelly Amonte for eighth all-time at Maryland. Eight of Francis' helpers have been off corner kicks.

Mahar has scored all nine of her career goals on headers over her two seasons.

In goal, senior Kristen Barnhill made two saves to post her sixth career solo shutout and third this season. Mason's Sarah Coughlin was busy much of the night as she made eight saves in the defeat.

In the all-time series, Maryland remains undefeated in the last nine regular-season games going 8-0-1 since 1995. In those nine games, the Terps have outscored Mason 22-3.

Maryland 5, No. 16 Wake Forest 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - It was seven minutes in heaven for Maryland Saturday night as the Terrapins exploded to an early three-goal lead in the first 7:15 on the way to a crucial 5-1 victory over No. 16 Wake Forest in a key ACC match.

Katie Ludwig and Ali Andrzejewski each tallied a goal and an assist in the five-goal performance, which marked the most goals and largest margin of victory over a ranked team since a 6-1 thrashing of No. 17 James Madison on Nov. 18, 1995, and most in ACC match since 1998.

"I'm very proud of this overall team effort," said head coach Shannon Higgins-Cirovski. "This was really a game we had to win. This puts us in a very positive position when looking forward to the postseason tournaments."

The Terps (9-6-1, 2-4 ACC) quickly raced out of the gates when Jen Biscoe headed home an Andrzejewski centering pass 19 seconds into the match, sending the Ludwig Field crowd of 1,205 into a frenzy.

It was the ninth time in the last 12 games that Maryland has scored first, with seven goals coming within the first 6:20 of action.

Maryland didn't allow the home faithful to get restless as Andrzejewski nailed a turnaround shot past Wake keeper Kenna Healy, giving the Terps a two-goal cushion just 3:02 into the game.

But Kimmy Francis wasn't satisfied, pickpocketing a Wake defender at the edge of the box and lofting a 20-yard shot over Healy for Maryland's third goal at 7:15.

Ludwig picked up her goal midway through the second half, blasting in a rebound of a Mallory Mahar shot, to give the Terps a commanding 4-0 lead.

Wake (9-5-3, 0-4-2) responded five minutes later with their only goal of the game, when Taylor Toombs' free kick deflected off the Maryland wall and past keeper Kristen Barnhill, who corralled six saves on the night.

Maryland picked up the game's final goal with 11:34 left in regulation when a Deacon defender's back pass trickled past Healy and into the Wake net for the 5-1 lead.

The five goals are the most in ACC contest since the Terps blanked NC State 5-0 on Sept. 20, 1998 - also the largest margin of victory in an ACC match.

The Terrapin win ends a four-game losing streak in the series, dating to 1999 and evens the overall series at six. It also marks the third time this season and the 36th all-time that Maryland has defeated a ranked opponent.

RV Duke 1, RV Maryland 0

DURHAM, N.C. - In the pivotal ACC regular-season finale, the Maryland women's soccer team dropped a tough 1-0 decision at Koskinen Stadium on Halloween night.

With the loss, Maryland is now 9-7-1 overall and finishes 2-5 in the ACC and can finish no higher than sixth in the ACC as the Terps look forward to next week's ACC Championships in Cary, N.C.

Duke jumped out to the 1-0 lead as freshman Darby Kroyer scored her fourth of the season just 9:28 into the game after an even start. Kroyer converted from about 10 yards out as she took a free kick from Carolyn Ford and beat Maryland keeper Kristen Barnhill to the low left corner.

Barnhill made a point-blank save on Carolyn Riggs 15 minutes into the half from the right wing of the box. She made another save off Kroyer as she deflected the ball over the net with her right hand with 12 minutes left in the first half.

Maryland broke out of halftime with vengeance as Kimmy Francis took a shot from inside the box just 28 seconds into the half that was stopped by the defender Ford on the left side of the goal crease. Just over two minutes later, Katie Ludwig had a breakaway but was stopped by Thora Helgadottir.

Helgadottir had five saves and Barnhill finished with three saves as Duke outshot Maryland, 11-8.

Freshman defender Ashly Kennedy went down with a strained left hip flexor early in the first half and did not return after leaving 16 minutes into the game. She was replaced by junior Lindsay Niehaus, who played the final 74 minutes.

RV Maryland 2, Navy 1

COLLEGE PARK, MD. - On Senior Night at Ludwig Field, it was two sophomores who provided the scoring punch in Maryland's final regular season game Sunday, a 2-1 victory over regional rival Navy that gives the Terps a lift heading into postseason play.

Kimmy Francis scored her team-leading seventh goal of the season at 18:40 on a feed from Jen Biscoe and Ali Andrzejewski, to get the Terps (10-7-1) off on the right foot. Biscoe's 18th career helper moved her into fifth place on the Terps' all-time career assist list.

Andrzejewski followed 15 minutes later on a strong header past Navy keeper Kim Bonafede. Simone Dekker and Lindsay Niehaus were credited with assists on the score that put Maryland up two goals at the half.

The Mids (15-4-1) just missed evening the match three minutes before Andrzejewski's goal as Meggie Curran's sharp angle shot grazed just off the crossbar. However, Navy found the back of the net 20 minutes into the second half when Molly Burd collected a loose ball in the box and fired past Maryland keeper Kristen Barnhill to cut the deficit in half. Kristi Coonfare was credited with an assist as she set up Burd off a corner kick set piece.

Maryland remains undefeated in the all-time series against Navy, improving to 5-0 outscoring the Midshipmen 17-1 in those contests.

Seven Maryland seniors -- Barnhill, Biscoe, Lindsay Givens, Katie Ludwig, Audra Poulin, Carly Viher and Valerie Lawrence, who is serving as an undergraduate assistant coach this season -- were honored in a special pre-game ceremony. Viher and Lawrence, who were unable to play their senior season due to injury, took part in a ceremonial kickoff to mark Senior Night.

ACC Quarterfinal •
Cary, N.C.

No. 25 Maryland 2, No. 23 Clemson 1

CARY, N.C. - Sophomore leading-scorer Kimmy Francis scored a pair of goals to lift No. 25 ranked/No. 6 seeded Maryland to a 2-1 victory over No. 23 ranked/No. 3 seeded Clemson in the ACC Tournament Quarterfinals at SAS Soccer Stadium.

With the win, Maryland (11-7-1 overall) advanced to the ACC Semifinals for the second consecutive year as it will face No. 19 ranked/No. 2 seeded Florida State .

Francis became only the second Terp ever to score two goals in an ACC Tournament game. The only other time came in 1991 as Randi Goldblatt scored both goals in a 2-1 victory over Duke in the Quarterfinals.

Maryland jumped out to a 1-0 lead as Francis scored in the 30th minute. Francis slotted a ball through a maze of Clemson defenders which screened goalkeeper Lauren Whitt as the ball went into the lower left corner.

The Terps continued to mount pressure in the second half. Francis converted for her second goal of the game and ninth of the season as she headed a beautiful cross from Ali Andrzejewski to beat Clemson keeper Lauren Whitt in the 53rd minute. The play began with senior captain Lindsay Givens sending the ball up to Andrzejewski.

Clemson got on the board as Amanda Garcia scored in the 79th minute as her shot from 17 yards beat Maryland goalkeeper Kristen Barnhill just inside the left post.

Maryland has now won four of its last five games overall and is in prime position for its eighth NCAA herth in the last nine years.

The Terps' defense headed by Barnhill, Givens, All-ACC Freshman member Ashly Kennedy, Lauren Krasko, Jennifer Lovecchio and Lindsay Niehaus, has not allowed an opponent to score more than one goal over its last eight games. Barnhill made six saves in the win.

No.19 Florida State 1, No. 25 Maryland 0

CARY, N.C. - Maryland's chance at its first ACC Tournament title game since 1997 came to an end on a Friday night with a 1-0 loss to 19th-ranked/No. 2 seed Florida State at SAS Soccer Stadium in the ACC Women's Soccer Semifinals.

The No. 25 Terps fell to 11-8-1 overall. Florida State moved to 13-6-1 overall and took on No. 1 North Carolina in the title game, falling 3-2.

Florida State scored the game's only goal as Kelly Rowland headed home a long free kick from Katie Beal to put the Seminoles ahead in the 63rd minute.

The game was relatively even for the first 20 minutes as Maryland's Ali Andrzejewski recorded both shots which were stopped by FSU keeper Joy McKenzie.

Mallory Mahar had a golden opportunity to score as she booted a ball from the top of the box, but was stopped by McKenzie 22 minutes into the first half.

Florida State had a few opportunities with 11 minutes left in the first half, but the Terp defense stayed strong fending off the Seminole pressure.

Andrzejewski had a golden chance with 7:42 left in the first half but shot the ball just over the crossbar on a great thru ball.

In the second half, Florida State came out strong as Leah Gallegos had a breakway that was blocked to the right side of the goal by Kristen Barnhill just two-and-half minutes into the period. Then Gallegos had another chance but her header went high over the goal a minute later. Gallegos continued with the pressure as she took the first four shots of the second half, all within the first seven minutes, but Barnhill and the Terp defense were up to the task.

Florida State took that 1-0 lead in the 63rd as Rowland headed in Beal's free kick.

Rutgers advances on PK, 4-3

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. - Maryland's women's soccer season came to an end as the Terps were defeated in a penalty kick shootout, 4-3, in the NCAA First Round. The game ended in a 1-1 tie at the end of regulation and remained tie through two overtime periods.

Rutgers' Adrienne Dugandzic scored the winning penalty kick goal on the Scarlet Knight's fifth shot. Maryland had received shootout goals from Lindsay Givens, Ali Andrzejewski and Audra Poulin.

The game recorded as a tie finishes the Terps' record at 11-8-2.

Maryland tied the game at 1-1 in the 63rd minute on senior Katie Ludwig's sixth goal of the season. Ludwig knocked home the goal from 20 yards out into the back left corner of the Rutgers goal.

Rutgers took a 1-0 lead as Carli Lloyd scored in the 26th minute. Meghan Cameron sent a cross from the right side into the box where Lloyd deposited it past Terp keeper Kristen Barnhill.

Maryland controlled the game for the first 20 minutes before Rutgers started to mount an attack. The Scarlet Knights took seven of the final eight shots of the first half beginning with Lloyd's goal.

The game was Maryland's first-ever overtime game in NCAA Tournament history in 14 all-time games.

Terps

Ludwig Field

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past eight years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,000-seat facility is an integral part of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to nine NCAA Tournament games, including Maryland's 1-0 win over American last Nov. 15, 2002.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

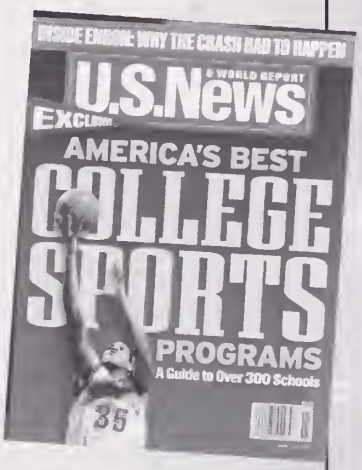
By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.



Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

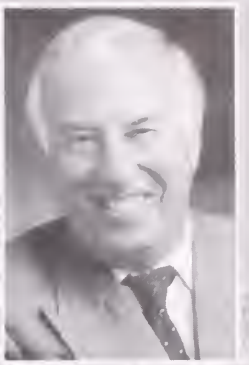
Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

Dr. C.D. Mote



University President
California '51
Seventh Year at Maryland

When C.D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998, he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Five years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever-accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community and in the world.

Leading a great university is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, chaired one of the nation's top-ranked departments of Mechanical Engineering, and eventually became Vice Chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

The University of Maryland is the State of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, providing the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress can be seen in every area, from its nationally-ranked programs to its growing range of partnerships to its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs has grown by leaps and bounds. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 18th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, the first time it has broken into the top 20 in its steady climb to distinction. We currently have 49 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 eight years ago.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20, and the Robert H. Smith School of Business is one of 6 nationally ranked in both the top 10 Business Faculty in Teaching and the top 10 Business Faculty in Research.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. This past year a faculty member was the recipient of the Japan Prize, an award given by the Japanese government in technology that is equivalent to the Nobel prizes. More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including political events, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the past 10 years, it has become a cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2003 is 3.9, while the average SAT score is nearly 1,300.

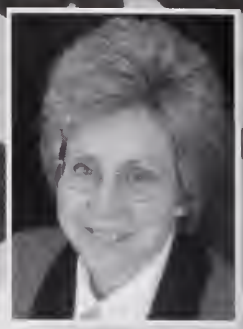
Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. Our extremely popular living-learning programs, which bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting, were ranked 3rd in the country in the latest U.S. News & World Report. In the last academic year, over 6,000 students enrolled in such programs as Gemstone, College Park Scholars, and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Deborah A. Yow

Director of Athletics 11th Year at Maryland



Deborah A. Yow is in the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about steady and continued improvement. In Yow's 10 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She has served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for 2003 through 2004. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the recent, very successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multiyear ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith Sports Business Journal national forum on the direction of intercollegiate athletics. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 10 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debt has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the top six percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Maryland is one of only five NCAA Division I football teams to have won 10 or more games in the each of the past three seasons.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference over Duke in the Championship Game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002.
- In 2003-04, 12 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play. This placed Maryland in the Top 25 programs in the nation in the prestigious USSA Directors Cup rankings.

Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).

- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her second season at the helm, in 2003-04, her team drew 13,250 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be a Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001 with additional Final Four appearances.
- Enhancing football facilities significantly with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades.
- Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 10 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin football program, Maryland's Director of Athletics points out, "Our 2001 ACC Championship and three consecutive major bowls are an important part of our emergence as a preeminent national football program. Our football coaches care greatly about their players and their welfare. They emphasize the importance of going to class, being good students and getting their college degree. Parents of our football players understand that these young men are in good hands with this wonderful staff of coaches. Our young men in Terrapin football have a full range of support in training, academics and career guidance from our coaches and staff of caring specialists. We are winning in the classroom and on the football field."

Summing up the entire athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls the three A's of the University —– Academics, the Arts and Athletics. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Shawn Flynn

Assoc. Athletics Director/Internal Operations
Third Year in Maryland Athletics
Pittsburgh-Johnstown '88

Shawn Flynn is in his second year as associate athletics director for internal operations. He is responsible for overseeing men's lacrosse, men's soccer, women's soccer, field hockey, men's and women's track and field and the men's and women's swimming programs.

Flynn came to Maryland in 1988 as a graduate assistant for Intramurals and Sports Clubs with Campus Recreation Services. In 1990 he was hired as the Campus Recreation Coordinator for Facilities and Sports Clubs. In that role he administered a 25-club Sport Club Program in addition to establishing a First-Aid/CPR program. In 1994 his responsibilities expanded when he was promoted to assistant director for facilities and sports clubs.

Two years later Flynn was promoted to associate director for facilities. He played an integral role in the development, opening and operation of two major facility initiatives, the Campus Recreation Center and Ritchie Coliseum. Flynn served as the department liaison with various campus departments and worked with university committees and working groups. Flynn was the event director for the 1999 and 2000 FINA United States Swimming World Cup.

In addition to his work at Campus Recreation Services, Flynn served as the site director for the Nationals Futures Tournament/Super Camp for the United States Field Hockey Association since 1996. He was also a member of the 2000 U.S. Swimming Olympic Trials event team and has assisted the Washington Regional 2012 Coalition.

Flynn earned his bachelor of arts degree in business/economics from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown in 1988. He went on to earn a master's in kinesiology with a concentration in sport management from the University of Maryland in 1992.

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, a program assistant and the learning specialist; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Networking Night

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs Commitment Statements

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate soccer has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan (right) that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the soccer team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for soccer is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. Kagan makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in soccer goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the lacrosse team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.

THE PREDATOR EXPERIENCE

ESTABLISHED IN 1994

The original Predator changed the game of football. It changed good players into skilled players and skilled players into magicians with an unbelievable ability to spin and control a ball. The Predator remains the premier match boot for elite players. In 2004, adidas introduces a revolutionary technology, PowerPulse. This technology will change the game of subtle moves and soft touches to one of breathtaking power and speed in a heartbeat.

KAKA | RAUL | ZIDANE | BECKHAM | BALLACK

Predator Pulse

PowerPulse

Weight and mass have been carefully and precisely redistributed towards the forefoot of the boot to generate maximum power transfer as the foot contacts the ball. This technology follows the same principles as in the latest developments in the golf and tennis industry.

The Predator now supplies the critical mass.
Your kick provides the speed.
Make it rain, speed equals power.

Media Information

Media Guidelines

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Ludwig Field may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Jason Yellin in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2728 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7062. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Photography Policy: The Media Relations Office reserves the rights to revoke any photo credentials if the following standards are not upheld: all photographers must remain off the endlines, stay out of bench areas and remain at least five yards away from bench areas.
